A NEW MUSICAL

You'd have to be crazy to miss it.

GUIDING LIGHT STAR and 2 TIME EMMY NOMINEE ROBERT NEWMAN joins the cast of SESSIONS as the New York therapist Dr. Peter Peterson, who listens, advises and tests his patients. What good therapist wouldn't? Particularly when your group includes: a bickering couple whose marriage just won't go away, a rich kid who found his voice in Bob Dylan, a reluctant man who has longed for the same woman for 15 years, a young woman who has spent so much time in therapy she might get out, a billionaire who finds no solace in his money, a strong willed woman with a dark secret, and a provocative siren in high heels...

At once a drama and a comedy with poignant and hilarious moments alike, SESSIONS is a new musical for a modern generation.

After all, couldn't we all use a little therapy?

ROBERT NEWMAN has earned legions of fans with his portrayal of Joshua Lewis on GUIDING LIGHT, first appearing on the CBS daytime drama in 1981 and playing his role for the 28 years since. In 2002 and 2006, he received nominations for a Daytime Emmy Award for Outstanding Lead Actor in a Drama Series.
